

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT.

The Chief Factory Inspector respectfully presents the following as the twelfth annual report of the department:

At the last session of the General Assembly a number of changes were made in the factory inspection law, among which was one extending the scope of the law. Under the old law the inspectors were required to visit only such establishments as employed five women and children, while the amended law provides that the inspectors shall have under their supervision all places where there are five or more persons or any child under sixteen years of age employed. This change brings under the care of the inspectors a number of large machine shops, jewelry manufactories, breweries, and other manufacturing establishments where only men are employed, and numerous smaller places where, in addition to men, women and children are employed in numbers less than five, and has resulted in a very material increase in the work of the department.

The present report includes one thousand five hundred and eight (1,508) places visited by the inspectors as against six hundred and fifty-three reported last year—an increase of eight hundred and fifty-five (855), or 131 per cent. There were eight hundred and eighty-eight (888) new places visited during the year; but as thirty-three (33) of the places mentioned in the last report were reported as closed, and consequently do not appear in this year's report, the net increase is but eight hundred and fifty-five (855).

The number of employees in the various establishments was divided as follows:

Males of sixteen years and over.....	73,670
Females of sixteen years and over.....	38,707
Total adults.....	112,377
Males under sixteen years of age.....	3,805
Females under sixteen years of age.....	3,112
Whole number of children.....	6,917
Total number employed.....	119,294

The foregoing shows an increase of twenty-one thousand five hundred and ninety-eight (21,598) in the number of men employed; an increase of two thousand two hundred and thirty-four (2,234) in the number of women employed; an increase of six hundred and sixty-three (663) in the number of boys employed; and an increase of three hundred and fifty-nine (359) in the number of girls employed. This makes an increase of twenty-three thousand eight hundred and thirty-two (23,832) in the number of adults employed and an increase of one thousand and twenty-two (1,022) in the number of children employed—a total increase of twenty-four thousand eight hundred and fifty-four (24,854) in the whole number employed. Of this increase twenty-one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (21,939) adults and five hundred and ninety-eight (598) children were found in the new establishments visited; while eighteen hundred and ninety-three (1,893) adults and four hundred and twenty-four (424) children should be credited to the places reported last year.

Of the new places visited five hundred and seventy-four (574) were located in the city of Providence; eighty-three (83) in the city of Woonsocket; seventy-nine (79) in the city of Pawtucket; sixty (60) in the city of Newport; and twenty-five (25) in the town of Westerly. The remaining sixty-seven (67) places were distributed among the different towns.

The following table shows the number of adults and children employed in the State by counties, cities, and towns:

A comparison of the figures in the foregoing table with those given in the last year's report will show an increase in the number of employees in every county in the State, that of Providence county being twenty thousand five hundred and twenty-five (20,525) adults and eight hundred and sixty (860) children; Bristol county, seven hundred and twenty-four (724) adults and forty-three (43) children; Kenty county, four hundred and ninety-five (495) adults and thirty-one (31) children; Newport county, eight hundred and seventy-eight (878) adults and sixty-two (62) children; Washington county, one thousand two hundred and ten (1,210) adults and twenty-six (26) children.

The question of maintaining good conditions in the closets and lavatories of the various establishments is an extremely vexing one. The procuring of good arrangements does not always insure good results. Many instances could be cited in this connection where there are good and even excellent arrangements, and yet, through the carelessness or other less excusable propensity of some of those who use them, and also the lack of attention on the part of those in charge, the conditions are oftentimes rendered poor. It will be readily seen that, with over fifteen hundred places under their care, the inspectors can not be always on the spot; and that, however zealous they may be they cannot succeed in making the conditions very much better than those who ought to be most interested will them to be. Changes for the better have been and are being made in the sanitary arrangements in a number of establishments, and the conditions generally are good, but there is still ample room for improvement.

It is evidently the desire of all the manufacturers and employers of labor in the State to comply with the provisions of the law in relation to the comfort and welfare of their employees, but there are some instances where manufacturers have manifested a very commendable interest in the well-being of those in their employ by providing for their use dining rooms, reading rooms, libraries, bath rooms, etc., thus voluntarily going far beyond the requirements of the law. I am pleased to be able to present in this report photographs of some of these improvements, taken from Rhode Island's factory inspection exhibit at the World's Fair at St. Louis, and hope they may serve as an incentive to others to adopt, so far as practicable a similar course. In addition to the firms represented by the photographs shown in this report may be mentioned Mr. Joseph E. Fletcher, of the Coronet Worsted Company, Mapleville, who takes much interest in the welfare of his employees and has built for their accommodation a casino with a large hall and with bowling alleys, pool and billard tables, reading room, etc. The Wanskuck Company, at Oakland, are also very much ahead of the general procession in the matter of conveniences furnished for the comfort of their employees.

The following table gives a summary of the statistics of the reports of this department for the years that the factory law has been in force:

Men's Dining Room in Casino at Gorham Manufacturing Company's plant, Providence, in which meals are served at less than actual cost.

The foregoing table comprises the reports from the establishments engaged in the manufacture or finishing of cotton and woolen cloths and yarns, silk goods, threads, tapes, braids and twines. The number of employees in these industries was divided as follows:

Males of sixteen years and over.....	32,732
Females of sixteen years and over.....	25,286
Total adults.....	58,018
Males under sixteen years of age.....	2,582
Females under sixteen years of age.....	2,423
<hr/>
Whole number of children.....	5,005
Total number employed in textile industries.....	63,023

Compared with last year's report these figures show an increase of one thousand eight hundred and six (1,806) in the number of men employed; an increase of eight hundred and sixty-nine (869) in the number of women employed; an increase of one hundred and seventy-three (173) in the number of boys employed; and an increase of one hundred and seventy-one (171) in the number of girls employed—a total increase of three thousand and nineteen (3,019) in the whole number employed in the textile industries.

Under the present law the factory inspectors have authority to demand certificates for such children only as are under sixteen years of age. If the law could be amended so as to give authority to demand, if necessary in case of doubt as to age, certificates for any minors, it would be of material aid in enforcing the restrictions under the sixteen-years limit.

That portion of the factory inspection law relating especially to child labor has been amended in four important particulars, viz.: Raising the age at which children may be employed from twelve years to thirteen years, and providing further that on and after January 1, 1907, it be raised to fourteen years; providing for a reliable certification of the age of children employed; prohibiting the employment of children under sixteen years of age at night; and also by inserting after the words "No child under thirteen years of age shall be employed" the words "permitted or suffered to work," thus prohibiting the heretofore prevalent evil practice of children under the legal age of employment going into the factory with their older brothers or sisters and serving them as helpers, and at the same time fitting themselves to go on the pay roll as regular wage earners as soon as they become of legal age. Some of the advocates of the foregoing amendments may be surprised to learn that there has been an increase rather than a decrease in the number of children employed. But a decrease on account of a change in the age limit could not have been expected this year, as the real raise does not occur until January 1, 1907, when the limit will be fourteen years. The truant law of 1902 placed the age at which children, with a few exceptions, could be legally employed at thirteen years; consequently the requirements were practically the same for the past year as for the previous year, and they will remain the same during the coming year. I do not believe that even after the fourteen-years clause becomes operative there will be, on that account, any marked reduction in the number employed. So long as manufacturing is carried on the youngest persons permitted by law to work will be employed to perform certain portions of the labor required to produce the goods. The number will be greater or smaller in proportion to the volume of business. The factory law as regards the employment of children under sixteen years of age is mainly restrictive and prohibits the employment only of such as are below the minimum age.

Eighty accidents have been reported during the year, two of which were fatal. The fatal accidents were as follows:

February 4th, 1905. Philip Kane, 25 years of age, employed at the Atlantic Mills, Providence, came in contact with an arc-light wire and death was almost instantaneous. The cause of the accident was carelessness and violation of rules.

March 14th, 1905. William Halliday, an employee of the Providence Machine Company, Providence. The accident was caused by waste in hip pocket winding on driving shaft in blacksmith shop, causing clothing to become wrapped around shaft and whirling the body of Halliday against small office structure and sprinkler pipe. Death was apparently instantaneous. Halliday's occupation at time of accident was that of cleaning oil from drips below hangers.

Of the other seventy-eight accidents but six were very serious. These were as follows:

November 12th, 1904. John McKenna, thirty-six years of age, employed at Sayles Bleacheries, Saylesville. Was putting on a belt while the speed was running. The ladder on which he was standing was hit by the belt and tipped over and he fell to the cement floor, fracturing his left hip.

February 1st, 1905. Adolph Leduc, employed at Elizabeth Mill No. 2, East Greenwich. His left hand was caught in the clothing of a cotton card and injured to an extent that necessitated the amputation of the second and middle fingers at knuckle-joint.

March 31st, 1905. Charles Ewins, 14 years of age, a cleaner in ring spinning room at the Clinton Mill, Woonsocket. He removed the door which guards the gearing at the end of the frame and began cleaning before stopping the frame. His right hand was caught in the gears and the two middle fingers injured so badly that amputation just below the second joint was necessary; also compound fracture of the first and fourth fingers of the same hand. He had, but a few moments before the accident, been cautioned by the second-hand against cleaning a frame while it was running, and notices forbidding the cleaning of machinery while in motion were posted throughout the mill.

May 4th, 1905. Eugene Joyal, sixteen years of age, employed by the Continental Finishing Company, Riverpoint, was caught in a can dryer and received a compound fracture of his arm.

September 23d, 1905. Sirian Zifcak, employed at the Hope Worsted Mills, Oakland, as a finishing hand. The second and third fingers of his left hand were caught in a cloth shear and injured so badly that it was necessary to amputate them at the first joint.

The remaining accidents were comparatively slight. One of them, however, was followed by an unlooked-for happening. William Barber, aged eighteen, employed at Sayles Bleacheries, Saylesville, was, on December 23d, 1904, assisting in unloading a freight car, and his leg was slightly jammed above the knee. A few days after the injury a doctor visited him and found him suffering with pneumonia, from which he died.

I am pleased to acknowledge the faithful and efficient work of my assistants, Mrs. Helen M. Jenks and Mr. Joseph Roy.

Respectfully submitted,

D. 1906, and no child under fourteen years of age shall, after said thirty-first day of December, A. D. 1906, be employed or permitted or suffered to work in any factory, manufacturing or business establishment within this state; and no child under sixteen years of age shall be employed or permitted or suffered to work in any factory or manufacturing or business establishment within this state between the hours of eight o'clock in the afternoon of any day and six o'clock in the forenoon of the following day: Provided, however, that this restriction as to hours of work shall not apply to mercantile establishments on Saturdays, or on either of the four days immediately preceding Christmas in each year. D. 1906, that such child has completed thirteen years of age, and if said certificate is presented after said thirty-first day of December, A. D. 1906, that said child has completed fourteen years of age, and stating

When any child employed under the provisions of this section leaves his employment, the person or corporation by whom such child has been employed shall, on demand by said child, deliver to him (or her) the certificate on the authority of which such child has been employed, or, if such certificate is not demanded by said child, shall within two weeks after said child has left the employment of said person or corporation send said certificate to the school committee which issued it, or such person as the school committee may designate. The school committee of each town, or such person as the school committee may designate to issue the certificates provided for in this section, shall keep on file a copy of each certificate granted, together with the evidences of the date of birth on the basis of which such certificate is granted. Every employer shall post in a conspicuous place, in every room where such persons are employed, a printed notice stating the number of hours' work required of them on each day of the week; and the employment of any such person for a longer time in any day than so stated shall be deemed a violation of this section, unless it appears that such employment is to make up for time lost on some previous day of the same week in consequence of the stopping of machinery upon which such person was employed or dependent for employment: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to enlarge or impair any restriction placed upon the employment of any minor mentioned in chapter sixty-four."

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15 of Chapter 108 of the General Laws is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Sec. 15. SEC. 2. Section 16 of Chapter 108 of the General Laws, as amended by Chapter 921 of the Public Laws, passed November 22, 1901, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Sec. 16. All hoistway and elevator openings through floors where there is no shaft shall be protected by sufficient railings, gates, trap-doors, or other mechanical devices equivalent thereto, and the same shall be kept closed in the night time or when not in use. Every passenger elevator, except plunger elevators, shall be provided with some safety arrangement to prevent falling, and every passenger elevator shall be fitted with some suitable device to prevent the elevator car from being started until the door or doors opening into the elevator shaft are closed; and no person under the age of eighteen years shall take charge of or operate any passenger elevator.

"It shall be the duty of every inspector of buildings elected or empowered under the provisions of this chapter to inspect all elevators in every building within his jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the factory inspectors appointed or empowered under the provisions of Chapter 68 of the General Laws to inspect all elevators in every building within their jurisdiction in any city or town where there is no inspector of buildings, and it shall be the duty of said inspectors of buildings and said factory inspectors to notify the lessee and owner or some one of the owners of every building in which an elevator shall be used or operated contrary to the provisions of this and the preceding section, of such violation and require the lessee and owner or some one of the owners of said building, within thirty days after the receipt of such notice, to comply with the provisions of said sections, and it shall be the duty of said lessee and owner or owners to comply with such requirement.

"The owner or owners of any building or premises under lease, and their servants and agents, may enter upon such leased building or premises for the public welfare, with the purpose of making said building comply with the provisions of this and the preceding section, and may remain thereon during such time as may reasonably be required for the performance of such work as may be necessary to effect said purpose, interfering with the lessee no more than may be necessary.

"In all cases in which any person shall suffer injury or in which the death of any person shall ensue in consequence of the failure of the lessee or owner or owners of any building to comply with the provisions of this and the preceding section, or in consequence of the failure of said lessee or owner or owners to comply with the written notice and requirement of any inspector of buildings or factory inspector, when made in conformity to the provisions of this and the preceding section, such lessee and owner or owners shall be jointly and severally liable to any person so injured in an action of trespass on the case for damages for such injury, and in case of death such lessee and owner or owners shall be jointly and severally liable in damages for the injury caused by the death of such person, to be recovered by action of trespass on the case, in the same manner and for the benefit of the same persons as is provided in sections fourteen and fifteen of chapter two hundred thirty-three; which action, when the lessee and the owner are non-residents, may be commenced by attachment. It shall be no defence to said action that the person injured, or whose death ensues as aforesaid, had knowledge that any elevator was being operated in said building contrary to the provisions of this and the preceding section, or that such person continued to ride in said elevator with said knowledge.

"The lessee or owner or owners of any building, or in case such lessee or owner, or any of them, be non compos mentis, or a minor, the guardian of any such lessee or owner, or in case such lessee or owner, or any of them, be a non-resident, the agent of any such lessee or owner having charge of such property, who shall neglect or fail to comply with the provisions of this and the preceding section shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars for each day that an elevator shall be used or operated in said building contrary to the provisions of this and the preceding section. In case there shall be several such lessees or owners or agents in charge of any building in which an elevator shall be used or operated contrary to the provisions of this and the preceding section, proceedings may be had against any or all of them jointly, or against any one of them, for the recovery of such fine."

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after the first day of October, A. D. 1902, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

"SEC. 2. For the purposes of this chapter the school committee shall approve a private school or private instruction only when they are satisfied that the period of attendance of the pupils in such school or upon such instruction is substantially equal to that required by law of a child attending a public school in the same city or town; that the teaching in such school or such instruction in all studies except foreign languages, and any studies not taught in the public schools, is in the English language; that such teaching or instruction is thorough and efficient; and that registers are kept and returns to the school committee and truant officers in relation to the attendance of pupils are made the same as by the public schools.
